You are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay on the saying "The best preparation for tomorrow is doing your best today".

An ancient philosopher once stated that "the best preparation for tomorrow is doing your best today." Buried in history for thousands of years, this spark of wisdom can be applied to many situations even today. Simple as the remark may sound, it intends to inform us that one should lay great emphasis on the present moment.

Even though it is the experience of our forefathers, it is valid/correct in many cases even today.
one should cherish/value the present moment rather than the distant future.
